STATEMENT FROM THE COBRAM CEMETERY TRUST – (Covid-19)

With the prevalence of coronavirus (COVID-19) in Australia slowly increasing, the wellbeing of our staff, customers, business partners and communities is our top priority.

By close of business Friday 13 March 2020 we have not been made aware of any cases of the virus among our staff, or visitors to functions or events at site.

There is no impact to funeral services at this stage.

In close consultation with the Victorian Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), CCT is reviewing our systems and processes to adapt to any scenario that may arise in the future.

Remote service delivery

Our Trust Secretary is still available and has access to remote working arrangements so the secretary can continue to serve our families, communities and business partners.

We have asked staff and contractors showing signs or symptoms of illness to remain at home and seek medical advice, and to only return to work once cleared of any significant illness.

Community events deferred

In line with Australian government advice to minimise social gatherings, we will be cancelling or deferring all planned community events until further notice. Please keep an eye on our website for updates.

What won't change

There is no impact to funeral services

AT THIS STAGE.

We will still conduct burials and other interments, and will continue to maintain safe and accessible cemetery grounds.

Our phone and online channels will remain fully operational, however as we may be operating with a reduced workforce, please be patient if wait times are higher than usual.

Our commitment to you

CCT will continue to closely monitor the information being released from the World Health Organisation, Australia's Chief Medical Officer and the Victorian Department of Health and Human Services for any updates.

We will continue to work with peak bodies and industry groups to ensure we are aligned and able to deliver our essential services to the families and communities we all serve. If you have any questions or concerns through this period please do not hesitate to contact us.
